HonorSociety.org Chapters

HonorSociety.org is a leading honor society that helps students maximize their potential in academics, leadership and community service.

HonorSociety.org is focused on helping people succeed by connecting members with the right people and opportunities to help them achieve their goals. In order to nurture those connections, HonorSociety.org introduced campus chapters at universities across the country as a way for members to receive an elevated member experience.

See below for more details about the benefits of our HonorSociety.org Chapters

HONOR SOCIETY
— STRENGTH & HONOR —

HonorSociety.org Chapters allow members to have an in-person support system that allow them to reach their goals and excel academically. Members of chapters gain real-world leadership experience and are positive influences on campus and within their communities.

Benefits of HonorSociety.org Chapters

Community

HonorSociety.org gives students a platform to network with other ambitious students on campus and with successful alumni. University campuses thrive on students working together and being actively involved in the university's community. One of the major benefits of HonorSociety.org membership is that members are a part of a community of students with similar goals across the entire country. When students are striving to reach their goals, they are also eager to help provide encouragement and motivation to others. Chapters strengthen this community by connecting them on their own campus on a regular basis providing a foundation of day-to-day motivation. They keep each other on track to reach their biggest academic and career goals.

Leadership

The hands-on leadership experience gained while building and maintaining a chapter is beneficial to all of the chapter's members. This leadership experience translates into real world experience, which is something that hiring managers and graduate programs highly value when it comes to recruiting students. Members gain first-hand experience creating marketing campaigns, recruiting new members, public relations, leading presentations and so much more. HonorSociety.org headquarters provides the chapters with guidance along the way, but the growth and preservation of the chapter on campus is up to its members.

Impact

HonorSociety.org encourages its chapters to give back to their local community as well as providing service to those around the world. Chapters have hosted events to collect toys for children in need during the Holidays, mentoring local high school students, and donating time at the local soup kitchen. Local chapters provide service to the community at least once per semester which is an important character trait to build and grow.

Chapters are a vital piece to the goal-oriented members of this organization and are critical to building a strong HonorSociety.org network. Join or create one today!
